Must Stop Selling Jamaica G 1337

A stern warning to drug store owners that they must cease selling Jamaica ginger and other concoctions to persons in the habit of getting intoxicated, was made by Judge Small from the Municipal court bench Wednesday afternoon, under penalty of prosecution.

The warning by the court was prompted by an admission by "Jimmie" Kennedy, well known police character, that he had been drinking stimulants secured at drug stores.

Kennedy, who with Charles King and Carl Murphy, soldiers, were arrested Tuesday night for holding a drinking bout on the street, were fined $10 and costs each and sent to jail for 10 days. John Bonum, who

DOCTORS DIDN'T HELP HER SICKLY CHILD

Is strong and healthy now. Mother says Milk's Emulsion saved its life.

"Last May my three-year-old baby was taken very ill, got so bad that we expected her to die at any time. Had four doctors but they did not know what ailed her and finally stopped coming. She had been sick about a month when I started giving her Milk's Emulsion. It worked results from the first and by the time she had taken 2 bottles she was absolutely strong and healthy. I am thankful to say Milk's Emulsion saved her life."

Mrs. Willis S. Pitts, Neapolis, Ohio.

For restoring appetite, health and strength in sickly children, mothers will find Milk's Emulsion the thing they have always sought. Most children like to take it, because unlike many emulsions and tonics, it really tastes good.

Milk's Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritious food and a corrective medicine. It restores health, natural bowel action, brings away with all need of pills and laxatives. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milk's Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whose skeletons are weakened, and is a powerful aid in restoring and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milk's Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 75c and $1.50 per bottle. Write Milk's Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.

Nail Penetrates Leg

J. E. Blackburn, well known Barton merchant, is in a dangerous condition as the result of running a nail in one of his legs several days ago. The nail wound gave him little trouble at first, but later infection set in and now the injury appears to be bordering on blood poisoning or tetanus. The patient is under the care of Dr. G. W. Clabot, of Peebles.

ALL EYE STRAIN SHOULD GET ATTENTION.

There is no such thing as eye strain that is slight enough to be neglected. Any error of refraction that is important enough to produce eye strain is important enough to demand correction. And here is another point—nothing is gained by putting it off from time to time. In cases of eye strain DO IT NOW should be the practice. We correct all degrees of eye strain with glasses.

BILLY WHISKER

BY FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

"That beats me hollow," fairly chuckled the flabbergasted manager, when he saw Billy and the monkeys performing. I can't understand it at all, but I hope I know a good thing when I see it, and I do judge if this doesn't prove the greatest feature and biggest drawing card the show ever had. The manager had satisfied himself with the way things were going in the ring, but he had to make suitable preparations to receive Billy and his followers when they had finished their performance and came out, for he had no doubt but that they would withdraw in the same manner as regular actors; and in this he was already known, he was quite right.

The keepers and handy men were summoned from all sides to be ready to assist if any attempt at escape should be made. The last meal obtainable was hastily collected and temptingly spread out, and everything possible done to provide for the comfort of the new performers to show how greatly pleased the manager was at their most successful efforts to entertain his audience, the very shrewdly thought that by this means he could induce them to repeat their act the next day and for many succeeding days.

L. G. TATMAN IS NEW HEAD OF STRUTHERS, O., BANK

L. G. Tatman

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 11.—L. G. Tatman, bank examiner and special deputy in charge of the Bureau of Liquidation of the Department of Banks, has tendered his resignation, effective Nov. 15. Mr. Tatman resigns his position to accept the management of the Struthers Branch of The Dollar Savings & Trust Company, of Youngstown, Ohio.

The Dollar Savings & Trust Company is the largest savings bank in Ohio, in point of capital, outside of Cleveland and Cincinnati. It has a capital, surplus and undivided profits of over three million five hundred thousand dollars, with deposits aggregating eighteen millions.

Mr. Tatman was formerly from Portsmouth, where he served as county treasurer of Soloto county for two terms. After this he was associated with the Central National Bank of that city for some two or three years, where he obtained his first banking experience. On leaving this bank, he was employed by State Auditor Gilbert as an auditor in the Bureau of Inspection and Supervision of Public Office, which position he held at the time he assumed his duties in the State Banking Department. Mr. Tatman has had charge of the Bureau of Liquidation of the Banking Department since June, 1916, during which time the affairs of the department have been placed on a very high plane of efficiency. Probably in no other state in the Union are bank liquidations conducted as economically as in Ohio. Many of the important changes in the law relative to the liquidation of banks which now appear in the Graham Banking Act, were suggested by Mr. Tatman.

We're Not Going to Celebrate With Talk of Flowers—But Extra Great Bargains

Four tremendously successful years have passed for us and we must feel proud and grateful equally. Proud of the great fact that the ever increasing patronage proved our methods of business were right, grateful for the way our numerous customers consistently remained with us.

The "P. D. C." was built on the firmest foundation of honesty first of all. From the very beginning we made it a principal not to GET ALL WE CAN but to GIVE ALL WE CAN. This one dominating determination alone created for us a position and prestige that few stores throughout the country hold today.

We have the good will of every one, even the manufacturers themselves who so heartily co-operated with us in making this Anniversary event stand out as the greatest celebration in the state!

This is just the time of the year when you need many things and we decided you must have ALL the benefit—and the kind that MEANS SOMETHING—the benefit of great big sale specials in just the goods you need very much!

Therefore these values are doubly attractive—we are offering items of necessities at prices which come but once a year!

You will remember our Anniversary Celebration for a long time and you will be convinced by it that we highly appreciate your patronage.

COME WHEN THE DOORS OPEN at 8:00 tomorrow morning—Celebrate with us!

"Sundown Slim" is a unique character and one well immortalized on the silver screen. His adventures when he "hired" right into a fight between rival gangs of cow and sheep men, the events that led him to buck up and become a real "killer" as well as a ranch owner in his own right, and the tale and serve to make it a candidate for consideration a some of the classics of the ranch country, may be seen in the picture.

THE SAGEBRUSHER

The photoplay of the novel by EMERSON HOUGH

Directed by EDWARD SLOMAN

The picture you will always remember

A GREAT AUTHOR'S PRODUCTION

"The Sagebrusher." A Wonderful Pictorialization of Emerson Hough's Western Novel, Will Thrill You With Its Bigness at the Strand Tonight Last Time. Also Comedies.

Emerson Hough's "The Sagebrusher," a W. W. Hodgkinson special, released coming to the Strand tonight, depicts the soul-stirring events in the life of Mary Warren, a beautiful, refined girl who, having lost her sight, is forced by circumstances to work in a saloon, a stiff-necked Montana rancher. The blind girl knows from his speech that he is untruthful, but visualizes him a big, handsome fellow.

To him the marriage is a grim irony of fate, and from a hidden nobility within his crude exterior, he respects his wife and refuses to kiss her, leaving that to Dr. Barnes, a young, handsome practitioner at the power conpany's plant, who believes that he can restore Mary's eyesight. Knowing that Mary's first glimpse of him will be her last, she consents to the operation, though he loves her.

An outbreak led by Frederick Waldman, who recognizes Mary as the girl whose estate he has appropriated, plunges Mary into peril, and ends after the operation on her eyes in the blow, life in revealing Mary from the flood. Dr. Barnes battles with Waldman on the roof of his office, which is whirling down the canyon on the crest of the flood. He throws Waldman into the water and is rescued. The operation proves successful, and after a time Mary returns the doctor's love. A big V Comedy and much of the Rockies are other attractions tonight and tomorrow.

Fought, high man of the evening, was with the Messengers, but he could not do it all, his teammates not rolling good enough to put across a victory. The scores:	Tackers—

INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE

The Steel Plant and Excelsior teams of the Industrial Bowling League were victors in their scheduled matches with the Vulcan East and Times teams at the Crystal Palace alleys.

The Steel Plant team, despite the fact that they rolled with three blinds, were too much for the Vulcan East and won all three games. The Times team got one out of three from the Excelsiors, thanks to the fine work of Habels and Colley, who bumbled 425 in the last game, the former getting 225, while "Alb" cracked 'em for an even double century score. The Times team gradually getting a toe hold and expect to get there bye and bye. The scores.

The Superstitious Party

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., November 14.—With the defeat at the hands of Parkersburg now only a faded memory, Coach Harry Wilson's Red and Blue football warriors went through one of the stiffest workouts of the season yesterday at Ritter Park. While the Red boys were disappointed by the setback that they received last Saturday, they are not discouraged by any means. There is not a player in the H. H. lineup but thinks that they have a "locking good chance to spill Charles" team's championship dreams at League Park Saturday afternoon.

There are many that think that the defeat landed the brails at Parkersburg will serve to prime them for a stupendous effort when they face the Senators. Not share the battle with the League Institute here Wilson's grid-ers showed a dash of the football fever that made them the runners up for the championship in 1918 and 1919. They played a whale of a game against Gaston but slipped back into the net when they mixed it with Parkersburg.

Manager Tris Speaker of the Cleveland Indians, says he is going to stand on his Champions. He says there is not to be a single change in his team for 1921. "And I believe we will repeat again next year as we have the best team in the American League," Speaker told fans in Texas several days ago.

Mr. Putzke denies this story, adding that Ironton broke the contract between the two teams. According to Putzke he had a telephone conversation with Davies of Ironton Tuesday and he agreed to make the trip to Ironton Sunday with a patched up Blump, as some of the regulars refused.

A little royal is promised when Captain Depler, of Illinois, and Andy Newsek, of Ohio State, centers on their respective teams, tangle in the Illinois-Ohio State contest, November 29, at Urbana.

They're the Mitt and Jeff of the centers in the west. Depler, short, squat, and powerful, last year won his place on the mythical All-Western eleven. Newsek, towering 6 feet 4 1/2 inches, 175 lbs. A roving center, and would make a star of an even better one, he is a little slower than his equal to hold down the center job.

Newsek is playing his first year as a varsity regular, although he is a senior in college. It was his long arms that defeated the poor Chicago effort at a point late in the fourth quarter which paved the way for Ohio State's touchdown and victory. When it comes to weight, this is a little better than the other school better than 300 pounds. The Buckeye center has made the letter of his battles with every pass or he has tried conclusions with this fall. Depler is his last obstacle in a place on the All-Western team.

It should be pleasing news to thousands of football fans that Christy Mathewson is recovering from his illness. After more than a year's struggle with tuberculosis, which set in while the diamond favorite was in France, Mathewson is making progress towards health, and physicians now say there is a fine chance for his full recovery.

Although he still spends his days reclining in a darkened room, the great pitcher is said to have the appearance of change in his favor. Treatments of gas have improved condition of his right knee, his few jewels of his right hand, his feet are vanishing and he is gaining weight and strength.

The Tanks also claim that the battle would be played for a $500 bet. There was no such stake, but it is a well known fact that Mr. Tanks, who explains that he told the London management that they would get a $500 crowd out if the game was played here Thanksgiving Day.

World Celebrates Second Anniversary Of Armistice Day

Impressive ceremonies were held in London and Paris today, the people of the French and British nations celebrating the second anniversary of the closing of the World War and paying tribute to the men who sacrificed their lives during the struggle.

The body of an unknown British soldier was buried in Westminster Abbey, King George, governmental chiefs and relatives of missing soldiers witnessing the interment. In Paris, the body of a French soldier, taken from a nameless grave at Verdun, was laid at rest under the Arc de Triomphe.

King George unveiled in White Hall, London, a permanent cenotaph dedicated to "the glorious dead," and in Paris the heart of Gambetta, the French statesman, who was virtual dictator during the troublous days succeeding the collapse of the third empire. In 1870, was deposited in the Pantheon. No ceremonies of a national character were held in the United States, but men who served the country during the war observed the day, which in some states was made a holiday. In others, governors issued proclamations pointing out the significance of the occasion. The exercises consisted, for the most part, of parades, memorial services and meetings at which patriotic addresses were delivered. General Nivelle, one of the men who commanded during the French defense of Verdun in 1916, was the principal speaker on the program to be given at a great gathering of service men in New York City. The United States naval department observed the day by awarding crosses and medals to men who did heroic work during the war.

head of much of Chicago's moonshine. In the saloon of Joe Rish, the federal officers secured five cases of beer, a gallon of moonshine and evidence of sales. At other saloons empty whiskey bottles, evidence and secret compartments containing moonshine were found. A raid was made where forty customers were assembled. "We should worry," one said. "Judge family will soon be in the business and we won't have to worry about him."

ADRIATIC PROBLEM SETTLED: FIUME TO BE INDEPENDENT

ISTRIAN FRONTIER FAVORS JUGO-SLAVS; ZARA AND 3 ISLANDS UNDER ITALY

LONDON, Nov. 11.—A dispatch to the London Times from Santa Margherita says the Adriatic question has been settled. According to three advisers the principal points in the settlement are as follows: FIRST—The Istrian frontier practically decided in favor of the Jugos. SECOND—Fiume to be independent with territorial contiguity to Italy. THIRD—Zara under Italian suzerainty. FOURTH—The islands there but with territorial contiguity to Italy. Premier Giolitti will sign the agreement tomorrow on behalf of Italy.

Drill Safe To Free Employee-But He Was Not Inside

and Pacific train was held for the OTTAWA, ILL., November 11.—Officials of the National City Bank of Ottawa, city officials and volunteers worked feverishly last night and until early this morning to open the bank's safe, believing that Francis J. Carrey, of the bank, had been locked inside by bank robbers. When two mechanics had cut through the six inch steel door with acetylene torches, no one was inside and the $50,000 taken from the safe was recovered. Terence Connolly, an Ottawa resident, stepped from the rear door of a soft drink establishment adjoining the bank about seven o'clock last night and a man standing in the rear of the bank dropped a package and fled, apparently in the belief that Connolly was watching him. The missing currency was in the package. Bank and city officials called upon the Joliet penitentiary for expert safe blowers imprisoned there, but were told that none now serving time there would be of assistance in opening a modern vault door. Telephoning Chicago police, a hand of safe experts and mechanics was hastily organized as the bank officials feared Carrey would smother quickly in the vault. A Chicago, Rock Island life saving crew and made a special run to Ottawa, but before its arrival, a four-inch hole had been burned through the door and by the aid of a flash light, Sheriff C. S. Ayers, of Ottawa, saw the safe was empty. When the bolts of the safe door had been opened, Charles C. Taylor, president of the bank, entered and found that the separate compartments belonging to the various employees of the bank, had been opened and their cash contents taken. When a search was made for Carrey, his mother, Mrs. Thomas C. Carrey, said he had not returned home since supper.

First Tarpon Is Landed By President-Elect

POINT ISABEL, TEXAS, Nov. 11.—President-elect Harding landed his first tarpon yesterday and came back from the Point Isabel fishing grounds looking prouder than he did when just a week ago tonight late election figures confirmed his overwhelming majority. The catch measured four feet and five inches, a fair-sized prize as tarpons go, and Mr. Harding handled the reel unassisted while the big fish moved back and forth through the water in its furious attempt to get away. It was pulled in just fifteen minutes after it took the bait. Mrs. Harding shared the honors of the day, for she also hooked a tarpon. It was almost a six-footer, however, and she did not try to land it. She passed the reel over to Senator Hale, a guest of the president-elect and his wife on their vacation trip here, and which he brought in after a struggle of more than a half hour. Senator Harding again spent the whole day on the tarpon fields, three miles off shore, passing up an ideal golf day to devote himself to the sport to which he was introduced yesterday. His fishing will be interrupted today, however, when he goes to Brownsville, twenty miles away to deliver an Armistice Day speech. He probably will give over the whole day to the trip, playing a game of golf at the Brownsville Country Club before the address.

Night Raids Start In Chicago; $25,000 Worth Of Liquor Is Captured

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—In the first of projected series of city-wide night raids, federal prohibition authorities last night and early this morning descended on five saloons and one still. They captured nearly $25,000 worth of liquor. The still belonged to Joseph Fargo, who with four employees was arrested. There were four stills with a total capacity of 120 gallons a day, 250 gallons of the finished product, large quantities of mash and four oil stoves. It was believed to be the fountain of our national government have proven of injury to the farmers. We searched faithfully to find one law or ruling to our advantage and failed to find it. We have urged for a fair show but all our efforts have met with a like fate. Mr. Lowell said the recent census showed a net decrease of 100,000 farms in seven states, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and West Virginia, and he charged that the attitude of the men in legislative halls and departments of government was responsible to a large degree for this condition. "So long as we remain passive, this state of affairs will continue," he declared. "Conversing taxation," he said, "there is but one equitable form of taxation and that is when every form of wealth pays its just proportion of taxes. There is no tax more just than any income tax, for it is never a charge against any one who has not the means to pay it. If we oppose the single tax and the idea of placing a government land tax of one percent on the land in place of taxing large incomes, both would be disastrous to agriculture," he said. "Another equally erroneous idea," he continued, "is the one of a heavy tax on all unimproved land holdings for if this was done and they were forced on the market by reason of such a tax (which is the intent) it would cause depreciation of farm lands 50 percent from the fact there would be more improved land than men to work it now."

ARMENIANS AND TURKS SIGN AN ARMISTICE

LONDON, Nov. 11.—An armistice has been signed between the Armenians and the Turkish Nationalists, it is announced in an Armenian communiqué dated November 7, received here today.

BREAK IN LEAGUE ASSEMBLY LOOMS BETWEEN FRANCE AND BRITAIN OVER TREATY TERMS

PARIS, Nov. 11.—Moreover, for the first time in the history of the League of Nations, France opposes any suggestion of a policy strictly in order to fight the League of Nations at Geneva next Monday. Great Britain and France have for the first time since the armistice agreed upon during the absence of any representative from the United States, allowed to become public the fact that a fundamental disagreement exists between the European and American nations in regard to the League of Nations. France insists upon the following conditions: France believes that Germany's disarmament as carried out in the past few months has been commensurate, and that it can only be made complete by the constant control of allied commissions installed at Berlin. France definitely declines to admit Germany to the League before the United States becomes a member, in carrying out that plan France, generally speaking, is inclined to oppose the League altogether, either by government or to resume trade

Three Enlistments

Three enlistments were received at the local navy recruiting station Wednesday by C. W. T. Osborne, officer in charge. Those signing up for service were Russell Shaw and Wilford Lavender of Portsmouth, who were sent to the radio school at Great Lakes, and Harlin Watson of Eor, Ky., who was sent to the hospital school at Norfolk, Va.

Peace With Russia

Britain holds upon peace with Russia, positively refuses to recognize General Wrangel, who is considered as only another agitator in southern Russia. The above points of disagreement are only a few of the principal misunderstandings which are now separating the warring states.

Weather

OMHO—Cloudy and colder tonight; probably snow flurries in north and east portions. Friday fair and colder except snow flurries near Lake Erie.

OPENING STOCKS

NEW YORK, November 11.—Oils finished the motive power at the opening of today's stock market. The Mexican and Dutch groups averaged one of a point each, London oil rose 2 1/2 and Standard oil of New Jersey 2 1/2 and 1/2 points. Shippers also were strong and further improvement was shown by a majority of the rails, especially eastern and western. Stocks, equipment and motors were backward. Preliminary quotations for foreign exchange indicated a renewal of recent pressure, the London rate fell back two cents to the pound sterling.

Moving Print Shop

H. M. Stokes has moved his job printing office from Galia street, near Globe, to the front room of the George Farrell business room, Galia and John streets. He is now busy moving his equipment and will be ready for work in a few days.

To Meet Tonight

A meeting of the Ordinance Committee and Building Code Committee of the City of Portsmouth will be held at 7 o'clock this evening.

SUGGESTIONS TO IRONTON EDITOR

U P at Ironton, Harry Paul, of the Irontonian, is puffed because good old John Corns will not gratify his desire to have a knock-down and drag out newspaper war, and reads out this comment:

"When we were wrestling with the journalistic game down at Portsmouth for a few years we used to tear a few inches of epigrams off the back of Harry Taylor and then resort to entitle restorer ourselves when Harry's acid pen got to working, but they don't seem to be able to stand the gaff around Ironton. Some fellows think they should have a monopoly on public criticism and when their sovereign rights are invaded they dub you a thief or even want to stop speaking to you. It's pretty tough when avenues of amusement are so limited to be denied the pleasure of a little editorial reprieve. If things don't change we are going to slap our editorial mitt across the face of the Portsmouth Times and start something."

Of course 'tis a wicked desire, that of Paul's, but then maybe Corns has gotten religion, and is endeavoring to live up to the "turn the other cheek" idea. However, with a laudable ambition to please and vary the monotony of things, we are willing to help start something. We propose that Editor Corns be allowed to realize his lifetime ambition to lick the postage stamps at Ironton, that the Irontonian and Rom Johnson both endorse him, and insist upon his being named. We feel sure that with this support Johnnie will go on the job. And why not? Has not Johnnie stuck his tongue in his cheek, winked his eyes violently and proposed Johnson for attorney general? And has he not begged forgiveness for calling Harding names and shouting during the primary that he was not fit to be president? And did he not save up for the Queen's taste? What more could a man do to get on the Band Wagon? Answer that Mr. Paul, if you can. And then we will have more to say in defense of our retiring editorial brother up the Ohio.

THE ARCTIC OIL STRIKE

THE discovery of gold was sufficient to take untold numbers of adventurers to the Arctic wastes in far Northern Alaska. If the oil strike on the Mackenzie river, 1,500 miles north of Edmonton, proves as valuable as it seems, the fact that the spot is 1,350 miles from the nearest railway and 900 miles from the nearest calling point of a river boat will not deter men from going there in the search for riches.

The world is oiling for oil and if oil is there in quantities to warrant the expenditures not for long will the spot be remote. The rigorous climate will prove but an incident if the returns from the work of the drill promise large profits. If the most justified railroads and pipe lines speedily will reach into the frozen North. Because the surface is so frost-bound and uninviting to men, perhaps nature has stored underneath that which man needs for his comfort.

But searching for oil in the Arctic regions is a proposition quite different from that which faced the gold hunters who dared the worst that Alaska could offer. While seeking gold was in a large measure possible under individual effort, the quest of oil is a business for capitalists. It involves tremendous outlay before any profit can be hoped for. It is a field for operations of the most daring. The Arctic strike is on Canadian territory, yet any discovery, no matter where, that promises to augment the stock of oil of interest to the entire world. It may mean more oil for the British but, if it is of volume, it means more oil for us also.

RUNNING THE OTHER WAY

THE claim has been advanced that prohibition is declining in popularity. That position did not get much encouragement in the last election.

The Crabbe bill, designed to enforce prohibition and give the state the legal equipment to deal therewith efficaciously, was carried by the tremendous majority of 275,000. Two years before a similar measure, though now shorn of peculiarly obnoxious features was defeated emphatically.

It may be argued that "the women did it," but since the women now have the voting privilege it can not be seen where that makes any difference in the position of the system. It is more logical to assume that the majority of the people are disposed to give it a fair trial, a full opportunity to prove its merit or demerit. And a reasonable inference from the last result is that the people demand moderation. The measure as originally drawn represented the extreme of the view and the agitation of the radical professional. It was rejected. Redrafted into a shape where it did not trespass upon privacy and harass the individual it was given an overwhelming support.

A Bureau Of Applied Science

By Frederic J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 11.—The government has at last started in a small way to much needed enterprise. One bureau in the Department of Agriculture—the Bureau of Chemistry—is going to turn some of its discoveries to practical use by finding out their commercial possibilities, and giving the public the benefit of its research.

This means that if the chemists of the sugar experiments laboratory, for instance, find an improved method of making cane syrup the bureau may be able to make it, and give the public the benefit of its research.

Instead, if it seems likely that the new process could be developed profitably by syrup manufacturers, and if there is a special need for it, chemical engineers of the bureau will take up the matter. Data will be obtained to show the condition of the market, whether a higher price can be obtained for the better product, whether new machinery is needed for the new process, and the cost, whether the project is practicable on a small scale, equipped with facts, figures, and perhaps a small working plant where syrup has been successfully made by the government process, the bureau is in a position to furnish help to any one who is interested.

The branch of the Bureau of Chemistry which is to form this liaison between science and the public is called the Office of Development Work. It was planned by Dr. Carl A. S. Haskin, chief of the Bureau of Chemistry, who felt that the discoveries of his bureau were not often enough understood by the people who could have made use of them. The trouble was that the bureau had no way of helping people who were always writing to it to know if such new process would be a good commercial venture and if so how to go about starting work. To help these business men and manufacturers, and also private citizens who might be interested in the use of a discovery made by the bureau, the Office of Development Work has been opened.

Many of the processes worked out by the government chemists are practical, but only on a large scale, in an elaborately equipped plant. But in some cases the farmer or housewife profits by the chemical experiments.

Gas Out of Straw

It is hoped that this may be true in the case of the straw gas experiments now being conducted at the government experimental farm at Arlington, Virginia. Gas was several years ago obtained from straw. During the war, England eked out her gasoline supply by attaching bags containing the straw gas to the top of automobile buses. The difficulty with straw gas can be seen right there. It has never been satisfactorily reduced to a compressed liquid. When that is achieved, and the quantities of gas obtained from different kinds of straw have been studied and compared, the Bureau of Chemistry hopes to be able to show the farmer how to make his own gas for light, heat and power for stationary engine and tractors. The government chemical engineers could not, of course, go to every farm and give actual assistance in establishing a gas production plant, but it could furnish all necessary information regarding costs, equipment, and the product.

The office that is to furnish this service is so new that it has scarcely mapped out its campaign. It cannot work out the development of all of its discoveries nor even of all that look promising as commercial propositions. It has a limited staff, and works under the special appropriations that are made from time to time by congress for experiments with synopses, dyes, or dehydrators. Thus if the bureau decided to develop its experiments on the use of corn cobs, the funds for development must come from the appropriate tion under which the corn cob experiments were made.

The Valuable Corn Cob
Corn cobs, which are now usually burned up, through a good example of wasted material, government research has shown that a number of products can be made from corn cobs, among them adhesive for floor board slating, paper, and a lightweight brown dye which sells for $20 a pound and can be made from cobs for about 15 cents. Some day the farmer may be able to sell his cobs for a very good price, but it is not likely that he would ever be able to extract dye or glue from them himself, because that is a proposition which demands development on a fairly large scale to return sufficient profits. It would be obviously ridiculous for a farmer to collect a few baskets of cobs into a corner of the barn and try to produce corn cob dye to compete with the product of a big, efficiently-run dye factory.

The Bureau of Chemistry is at present working on a number of experiments which, if later developed by its engineers, would be of great service to the country. For example, there are the tanning experiments. Farm hides generally sell for considerably less than those cut out by big tanneries, because a lot is either not so well-skinned and preserved, or else there are apt to be some carelessly tanned hides, possibly with cuts in them. In an otherwise good assortment, improper tanning partly explains why some shoes wear out so quickly. The Bureau of Chemistry is making a study of improved methods of tanning and as a result of its work has got out a bulletin telling how to tan hides. Recently this was as far as the bureau could go. But now, if the Office of Development Work should turn its attention to the bureau's leather work, there would be a far better chance for the government's findings to be of practical use to the tanners and to the public.

Another line of chemical research which has already shown its results is the utilization of inferior grades of citrus fruits. California ships crates of lemons and oranges, but some of the inferior fruit is not worth shipping if any damage. How to conserve the great quantities of slightly imperfect or small fruit has always been a problem. But now, the California laboratory of the Bureau of Chemistry has shown that by using the peel for maraschino and oil, and the pulp for citric acid, and establishing the business on a large scale, the cull fruit can be utilized. Largely as a result of increased interest in conservation of these imperfect fruits the price of cull oranges and lemons has gone up from five dollars to thirty dollars a ton, and four processors have started to manufacture by-products of citrus fruit.

These are two of the many experiments which the bureau is making and which the Office of Development Work could promote with profit to the country. The main difficulty, so often associated with new government projects, is to get congress to provide enough money for the work to be really of benefit.

"Cloth" From Bark

In the tropical islands of the Pacific there are several tribes which make use of the bark of a tree as a substitute for fabrics. It is called "bark" and is obtained by heating the bark and then treating it to a pesty preparation. After the regular process, the fiber shows a regular overlapping arrangement of the strands like woven material.

Needed.

To stop street cuts at railroad crossings or drawbridges, should a motorman ignore a signal, an inventor has designed a spring bumper to be raised level with their front sills.

Questions AND Answers

Q. Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Portsmouth Daily Times Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. This office is open to all questions on health, medical, and household matters. It does not attempt to make diagnoses, nor to undertake extensive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and address two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.

Q. How many makes of passenger automobiles are there in the United States? J. M. D.

A. The American Automobile Association says that there are about 120 makes of passenger automobiles in this country.

Q. Please inform me as to the origin of the dollar sign as we use it. L. M. H.

A. Authorities differ as to its origin. A plausible explanation is that it was the union of I and S meaning United States, the connecting curve of the "U" having been discarded.

Q. How does a spider spin a web with his legs? J. H. M.

A. A spider is trailing a thread behind him, a spider is able to drop from any height to the ground, or any solid substance, and to retract his steps with a certainty to a particular spot. Having once retraced his steps he can drop in another direction, returning along the thread spun on the second trip. This will continue indefinitely, during which operation the spider is continually spinning a web with his web.

Q. What shall I use on my fingernails to make them less brittle? G. H. B.

A. If the finger nails break easily, rub with cold cream, cocoa butter, or white vasoline.

Q. How many veterans of the Civil War attended the encampment of the Blue and the Gray at Gettysburg in 1917? F. A. W.

A. On the anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg in 1916, there were encamped altogether, 55,660 veterans of both armies.

Q. How long is a Russian mile? Which European country has the longest mile? S. J. Z.

A. The Russian mile, known as the versta, is equivalent to 7 verst, each of which equals 2,200 English feet. The mile, therefore, is equal to 24,700 English feet. The longest mile in use in European countries is that of Sweden, which is equal to 11,100 yards.

Q. What city was known as the "Home of the North"? S. P. C.

A. Prague has been given this title because it was built on seven hills as Rome was.

Q. How much does a square inch of steel weigh? A. D. E.

A. The Bureau of Standards says that it would be necessary to know its third dimension. The weight of a cubic inch of steel is about 283 pounds.

Q. What is meant by "short term" loans? J. C. G.

A. All United States senators are elected for six years unless chosen to fill a vacancy caused by death or other removal of a senator from office. In this case, they are known as "short term" senators and only fill an unexpired term of the senator they replace.

Q. Where is the largest fresh water lake in Asia? A. P.

A. Lake Balkash, which is in Southern Siberia, is the largest fresh water lake on the Asian continent and the deepest fresh water lake in the world.

Q. Is tuberculosis common among coal miners? J. C. D.

A. Data from foreign countries, particularly England and Wales, support the conclusion reached in America that pulmonary tuberculosis appears with lesser frequency among coal miners than among men following other occupations.

Q. What is the proper time to plant shrubs? T. H. N.

A. The proper time for planting is just after the first hard frosts—from the middle of September to the middle of November, according to the latitude and location.

New-York - Day-By-Day

BY A. C. MONTGOMERY

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—My friend Kip is a perpetual font of information. Kip is a newspaper hunkie and talks to the world of blood, murder and of nations topsy turvy on a West Forty-second street curb. He fairly exudes strength. His neck is short and thick, his nose has been beaten down almost level with his cheeks in the ring and one ear is askew.

I like to talk with him and listen to his running fire chatter when in his neighborhood. He calls some folk "broads" and women are always "James," although he does not mean it as disrespectfully as it sounds. For Kip refers to his mother as "the old woman" but he supports her and goes to early mass twice a week to please her.

Kip is a product of New York's streets. I asked him if he had ever seen a tree. "Specially," he answered, "I jumped 'em across in Jersey." "Then to add that he could hop them around Texas time for two hops." "But who the hell wants a tree?" There is always a glip on his shoulder. The most of his life, buffeted by policemen enforcing petty laws of a municipality, Kip believes that he has to rebuff in turn. He has brushed up against queer people and has seen strange sights.

He has his own code of morals. He confided this story. From a chop suey place each day came a Chinaman bearing ing a not which he left with Kip saying "Judy will call for it." A beautiful young girl did and left a dollar with Kip. This was repeated day after day. Kip at first supposed the Chinaman was acting as a messenger for some young woman, who was under a parental ban.

But ever suspicious he began to investigate. The girl was in love with the Chinaman. He found that out one when the Chinaman called next day Kip swept up his little section of the curb with him and sent him away in a haze of bewilderment. And when the girl called he said to her: "You're ought to be ashamed of yourself. Pickin' up with a Chin. I know your name and I'm going to tell your old man." The girl was frightened and begged him not to carry out his threat. "Well keep away from the chop suey nut!" he warned.

All of this was more than a year ago. A few weeks ago she came by in a limousine, stopped and called Kip to her. "I saw you a lot," she told him and handed him an envelope which contained $100. "She was just off to her job for awhile," said Kip. "She's married a swell broad now and is happy. 'The Chin is hopsmokin' his head off."

In a smart hotel lobby she stood as correctly as a fifth avenue can do it and from a silver leash a Frenchman ranged about her on guard. It was a prototype of those haughty pictures one sees in Vanity Fair. Now and then she looked at a diamond-encrusted wrist watch and tapped an impatient foot against the marble floor. I think a number of others stood about, waiting to see what she would say to him when he arrived. He came. A powerful bulk of a man with small bony eyes, wide hat and loose fitting clothes.

"You are late?" she said impatiently.

"Certainly I'm late. What of it? What you me to do, wait. Come on if you want grub" and he moved to ward the dining room with her meekly in the rear. All the extra men stuff is not necessarily pulled in caves.

A gentleman on the high perch of a Fifth Avenue bus suddenly turned to his seat mate. "Take this with me, please," he said and handed him a $20 bill. Before they got him he had made five similar gifts. "I don't know," he said at the police station "what would be so rich, but I had three hours' worth of hooch on my way to work."

Therefore Elliott Burton was born in Jefferson, O., in 1851. He was educated at Oberlin college, where he obtained his A. B. degree in 1872 and his A. M. degree in 1875. He was admitted to the bar in the latter year and has since practiced law almost uninterruptedly in Cleveland, O.

Burton first represented his district in congress during the term ending in 1891. Four years later he returned to the lower house, where he remained until 1900, when he was elected U. S. senator from Ohio. At the end of his term in the senate in 1915 he decided to retire and did not seek reelection. In 1912 he had been an unsuccessful candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Burton was chairman of the United warways commission by appointment of President Roosevelt, 1906-8; chairman of the national waterways commission, created by congress, 1909; member of the national monetary commission; member of the executive committee of the Interparliamentary Union, 1914-15, and as such participated in meetings at London, Geneva, Paris and The Hague.

Far down my traveled road I gaze (think! I'll catch faint, charming notes That ring so fairylike and clear!) / A garden, in the Spring of the year— A child, who plays with dancing mate!

Life's thins more strongly never flowed. Yet now I mourn for vanished hours. Today invites, and yet repels; / Against bubble charms my heart rebels; The sun-drawn note alone endures. —New York Times.

Depends On Circumstances

A young lady recently sent this question to the editor of a ladies' weekly journal: "Do you think it right for a girl to sit in a man's lap, even if she is engaged?"

The editor thought long, then— "Yes; if it were our girl and our lap. Yes, again, if it were some other fellow's girl and our lap. But if it were our girl and some other fellow's lap, emphatically no. We do not approve of such frivolity."

He did All The Evidence

The Mobs (at 3 a. m.)—"Nice hour to arrive home and a nice state to arrive in. I must say! Explains, you brute!"

Himself—"Oh friend asked me to help him gather evidence of violations of the prohibition law, indeed, an' I just (thinks) couldn't refuse."

Some Close Rates

An Englishman, Scotchman and Irishman were indulging in reminiscences of sporting occasions.

"The closest race I ever saw was a 'sack race,'" deposed the Englishman, "in which one of the boys that had been recently painted, won by the breadth of the coat of paint."

"The closest race I ever saw," declared the Scotchman, "was one in which a horse, stung by a bee, won by the width of the swelling on his nose."

"The closest race I ever saw," said the Irishman, "is the Scotchman."

What Is It Coming To

Modern Beauty—"It's too bad, Stand. I've been looking for my new evening costume everywhere, and here you're using it for a pea wiper!"

Jean's Joke For Girls

"I had to stay after school tonight," confessed Jean.

"For what?" inquired her mother.

"Teacher asked me to name the four seasons."

"Well, that was an easy question; couldn't you answer?"

"Yes, I said 'salt pepper, mustard, ginger.'"

A Dollar's Plea

Don't send me away, please, I like it in this town.

I'm only a poor dollar bill, faded, almost brown.

I've made lots of people happy here, made lots of sick folks well; And if you spend me here at home, I'll be happier than can tell.

So do not let the catalogues our mutual friendship sever.

For once I'm gone from here, I'm gone, gone, gone—forever.

One Way To Use A Shovel

The superintendent of a large factory was short of help. One morning as a last resort he stopped an old tramp who was passing by.

"Are you looking for a job?" he asked the tramp.

"What kind of a job?" the tramp asked.

"Can you do anything with a shovel?"

"Yes," answered the tramp, rubbing his eyes. "I can fry him on it."

Why Hauling Costs Money

Cassey—"You're a hard worker, Doc. How many loads of morthor have you carried up that ladder th' day?"

Doc—"Whist, man—I'm foin' th' boss. I've carried this same bodful up and down all day, an' he thinks I'm workin'!"—Cleveland Leader.
